

The background of the slide is a complex financial market visualization. It features multiple overlapping charts, including candlestick patterns, line graphs, and bar charts. A prominent feature is a large, thick green arrow pointing upwards and to the right, symbolizing growth or a profitable trade. Various numerical values and percentages are scattered across the charts, such as '+0.30', '+2.70%', '+3.48%', '+1.39%', '0.45%', and '-0.02'. The overall color palette is dominated by blues, greens, and reds, typical of financial data displays.

Agenda

- ✓ Review Disclaimer
- ✓ Goals and Objectives
- ✓ About Me
- ✓ Strategy Review
- ✓ Trend Definition
- ✓ Live Market Interaction - Finding Best Stocks at Optimal Time
- ✓ Additional Resources

Goals and Objectives

- ✓ Not day trading
- ✓ Spend as few as 15 to 20 minutes a day
- ✓ Does not need to be during market hours
- ✓ Orders can be entered outside of market hours
- ✓ Target growth of 15% a year

About Me

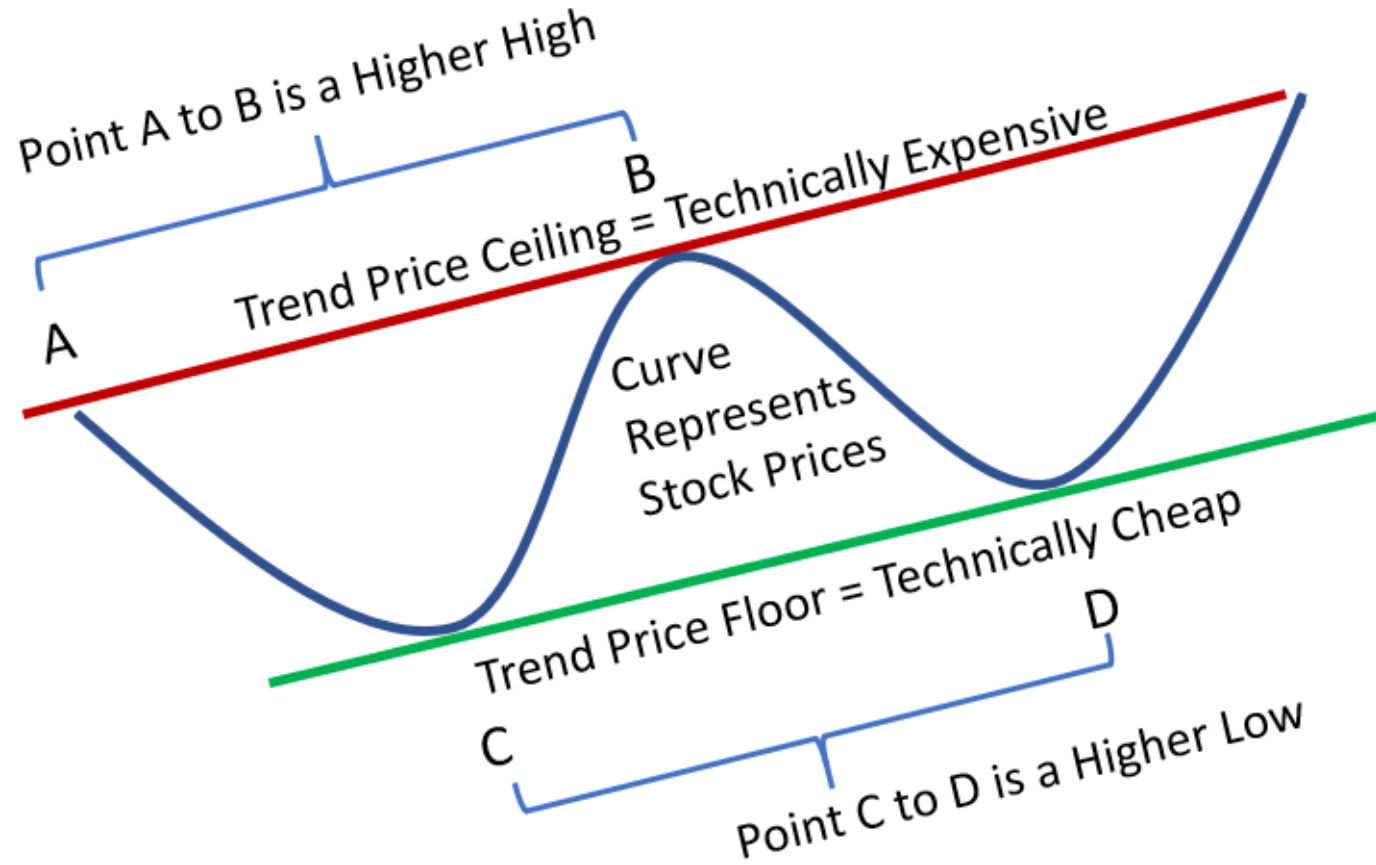

- ✓ Electrical Engineering background
- ✓ My full-time career was in Engineering and Program Management of large hundred million dollar programs
- ✓ Minimal access to the markets for most of my life
- ✓ Place orders after the markets closed
- ✓ I've been trading/investing since the only charts were published on paper, once a week
- ✓ Commissions were $200 to $250 a round trip
- ✓ I don't believe in long term buy and hold
- ✓ Enjoy just about anything outside with family, boating, fishing, skiing, travel,...

Strategy Overview

- ✓ My analysis shows interaction with TDAmeritrade TOS (Think or Swim)
- ✓ The problem to solve is to find the best stocks at the best time
- ✓ There is so much conflicting data that indecision can be a real problem
- ✓ Follow the leaders (new highs create new highs)
- ✓ Work from a list of top stocks with excellent earnings and projections for higher earnings
- ✓ Favor higher priced stocks (Big boys can invest more money in these)
- ✓ Find stocks from the leaders list that are in weekly uptrends
- ✓ Wait for pullbacks to support on the daily chart for optimal purchase price
- ✓ If wrong, get out (the first loss is usually the smallest)

Trade Uptrends

My Process

- ✓ This is what I do, it might or might not fit with you
- ✓ It's an iterative process, depending on conditions I might do this 2 or three times ago, sometimes I might just go fishing, golfing, or out somewhere with the family
- ✓ I'm usually checking the market after the first 30 minutes or so of the market open
- ✓ First, I sort my list by the price column – searching for stocks higher than yesterday and higher than today's open
- ✓ Second, I sort by D 3x8 – searching for stocks that have reached a level of support on the daily charts and are now turning up
- ✓ Third, I sort by W 3x8 - searching for stocks that have reached a level of support on the daily charts and are now turning up
- ✓ All the while I'm noting which stocks I might be interested in buying
- ✓ Let's go to the market...
